NEW YORK, Jan. 20, 2015 /PRNewswire/ -- Centric Digital, the leading pure play digital transformation company that helps organizations better understand and optimize their digital businesses to remain competitive in an increasingly digital world, announced today that it has standardized on DocuSign, Inc. (DocuSign®) for Digital Transaction Management (DTM). Centric Digital leverages DocuSign's integration with Box, <https://www.docusign.com/partner/box>, to eliminate paper-based processes to transact contracts and documents 100% digitally — anytime, anywhere, on any device. Securely. DocuSign enables Centric Digital's global team of more than 170 working in digital strategy, product innovation, technology delivery, finance, HR, sales, procurement, legal, and marketing to provide top-tier transaction experiences to valued clients, vendors, and partners around the world.

Since 2009, Centric Digital, <http://centricdigital.com/>, has been helping enterprises and organizations of all types achieve their digital transformation objectives. By providing detailed benchmarks and critical analysis of digital trends, Centric Digital helps global brands roadmap and implement tailor-made digital business strategies that position customers at the cutting edge of their respective industries. Trusted by companies ranging from emerging brands to members of the Fortune 500, Centric Digital prides itself on helping its clients achieve their digital potential by guiding them through the transformation from traditional businesses into digital leaders.

DocuSign is helping companies like Centric Digital automate manual, paper-based processes with the only open, independent, standards-based DTM platform for managing all aspects of documented business transactions. Businesses may go 100% digital with DocuSign's industry-leading identity management, authentication, forms/data collection, collaboration, workflow automation, payment collection, digital and electronic signature, and document retention in the cloud.

QUOTES:

- "DocuSign makes it possible for our global team to send, sign, and archive documents in hours and minutes rather than weeks and days," says Brian Manning, president and chief digital officer at Centric Digital. "The savings on paper, the cost avoidance from reduced administrative headcount, and DocuSign's reputation for ease-of-use, customer-centricity, and bank-grade security as the global standard for Digital Transaction Management make it the clear tool of choice for keeping our business digital as we help our clients reach their own digital transformation goals."
- "We're pleased to have Centric Digital join the DocuSign Global Trust Network to bring the power of Digital Transaction Management to its employees, clients, partners, and vendors around the world," said Neil Hudspith, chief revenue officer, DocuSign. "Both Centric Digital and DocuSign are committed to empowering clients with an efficient and secure way to digitally transform how business gets done for faster speed to results, increased security and compliance, and a better end user experience."
