

Q4 2019 saw EDBI continuing to invest in exciting digital health, biotech and fintech companies which would aid our local companies in their digitalisation and transformation journey. We also intensified our value creation activities as we continued to help our companies access new markets through our ecosystem of partners and government agencies. The EDBI team was honoured to be invited to share our views at several industry-themed conferences and events, giving us the opportunity to engage the wider investment community. Overall, this quarter capped another exceptional year of supporting visionary entrepreneurs and promising companies in their journey to become industry champions. Our activities have even led us to be listed among the World's Best Unicorn Investors by Hurun Research Institute in its Global Unicorn List 2019.

During the quarter, we welcomed new innovative companies to the EDBI family. Notable companies with disruptive technologies include Pico, eko.ai, and Nuvation Bio.

PICO
