

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Cloudpic® Global Inc. Secures $6 Million to build virtual studios in Asia via Singapore

SINGAPORE, Jan. 5, 2011 - To enable millions of new artists in Asia to be part of world-class content productions, Gobi Partners, Inc., a leading digital media and technology venture firm in Asia and Singapore's EDB Investments Pte Ltd., invest US$6 Million in Cloudpic® Global Inc., a pioneering leader in cloud computing applications for the digital entertainment industry. The financing round will be used to form Cloudpic® Singapore to go to market in Asia where the demand is especially strong for high quality, local content.

"Production of entertainment content is undergoing a massive shift. Artists want to work from anywhere," observed Cloudpic co-founder and CEO, Richard Chuang, an Academy Award winning pioneer of the CG and Animation industry in the US, and ex-Dreamworks Animation executive. He explained, "We created the Cloudpic platform to connect studios, artists, producers, and investors from across the world to develop and produce product for international distribution. It effectively removes barriers, and connects talent pools, markets and investment funding from across geographical and cultural regions. "

Swee-Yeok Chu, CEO of EDBI commented that "We are excited about Cloudpic's innovative virtual studio technology and business model. The ability to facilitate remote collaboration and production of world class content by studios across the globe will greatly strengthen the Digital Media Content ecosystem in Singapore. We look forward to helping Cloudpic execute its growth plans in Asia, leveraging our extensive network in key markets such as China and India."

Wai Kit Lau of Gobi Partners who led this and the previous investment round is similarly enthusiastic about the synergy between Cloudpic's production and management platform, and Singapore's strengths. Mr. Lau said, "We feel that Singapore's commitment to investing in and growing a world class content industry combined with the Cloudpic platform's ability to transparently manage distributed projects will pave the way to creating very attractive and highly investable media projects."
